What

a great improvement would be made in the condition of horses and other animals if just the proper remedy were used when they became ill or injured. If your horse could talk he would ask you not to use any external remedy containing alcohol because it stings and tortures his flesh terribly. Some liniments have alcohol and other fiery ingredients which only inflame the skin and tissue without striking down to where the pain lies. Beware of such liniments. The great humane, quick-action remedy is MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Made of oils, without a drop of alcohol or other torturing element, it soaks straight to the bone and muscle. It soothes the wounded parts and is comforting while the healing work is progressing. Mexican Mustang Liniment is what you want because it your work lighter, saves your livestock from suffering and keeps them in good trim for work. For all forms of Lameness, Strains, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Galls and Harness Sores in animals, it is safe and prompt and does not promise what it cannot perform. Mustang Liniment has been doing its wonderful healing work for 65 years. The amount of money it has saved livestock owners is incalculable. One man writes that he was about to kill his valuable horse because badly injured but Mustang Liniment made him well again. A Veterinary tells us he has used Mustang Liniment fifteen years and found it best liniment for cuts, strains, etc. And many others are enthusiastic friends of this tried and true remedy. Now you know just what makes

THOS. B. FELDER IS DICTAGRAPHER

Atlanta Attorney who Figured Prominently in S. C. Dispensary Matters has a Trick Turned on Him.

Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—The Mary Phagan case took a new and decidedly interesting turn today. While the Fulton County grand jury was considering the evidence so far secured as to the murder of the pretty 14-year-old factory girl, there were developments tending to show the case has become entangled in a local political fight involving the war that has been waged against Chief of Police Beavers, who recently identified himself with the reform movement which wiped out the segregated district in Atlanta. It is alleged the political opponents of Chief Beavers and his assistants in the police department have endeavored to make the investigation of the Phagan case a factor in the fight against him.

To Entrap Col. T. B. Felder.

On the other hand, it is claimed the local police have resented what they regard as aspersions against them in the efforts to bring outside detectives to the city to solve the baffling murder mystery. It is also claimed they have endeavored to entrap Col. Thomas B. Felder, a local attorney, who recently raised a fund to bring a detective of international reputation to Atlanta, to investigate the murder of the Phagan girl. Col. Felder is widely known throughout the South. He was the attorney for Charles W. Morse, the New York banker, when the latter obtained his release from the Federal Penitentiary here.

Conversation by Dictograph.

The Atlanta Journal printed late today what purports to be a stenographic record of a conversation between Col. Felder and F. C. February, secretary to N. A. Lanford, local chief of detectives, with a third party present. The conversation is alleged to have been secured by means of a secret telephonic device installed in a local hotel room at the direction of local detectives. The device is the one made famous by the detective whom Col. Felder employed against Governor Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, during a controversy with that Executive. The stenographic record in the local case was made by George M. Gentry, nephew of Col. W. T. Gentry, president of the Southern Bell and Cumberland Telephone companies.

$1,000 for "Certain Papers."

The Journal further presented a series of affidavits from local detectives and city employees, including February, which asserts that Col. Felder offered them $1,000 if they would place in his hands certain papers in the Phagan case which he declared the local police had manufactured, or "framed," and which he believed would be sufficient "to drive Beavers and Lanford from office."

One of the affidavits in question was made, the detectives said, by J. W. Coleman, step-father of the Phagan girl, who denied that he had ever employed Felder to represent him in the prosecution of the case. This affidavit also declares that the affiant is thoroughly satisfied with the great work done by Chief of Police Beavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford, and urges the citizens of Atlanta "to stand behind the Atlanta police department."

Coleman an Employee of City.

Coleman is also a city employee, in the sanitary department. The detectives say the papers Col. Felder wanted were in the safe of the chief of detectives. They declare they told the attorney they might be prosecuted if they abstracted them, but say he replied they could not be put in the penitentiary so long as "his friend, Hugh Dorsey, was solicitor general." They also declare that Felder said he could "control" the Criminal Court Judge, Mayor Woodward and Solicitor Dorsey. One of the affidavits asserts Felder said he could get Governor "Joe" Brown, or Governor-elect "Jack" Slaton to release any of the men involved if an attempt were made to jail them.

Denounced as Frasters.

February and A. S. Colyar, an investigator, in affidavits declare Felder denounced Chiefs Beavers and Lanford as "graffers" and said: "I can call a mass meeting tomorrow afternoon and have 10,000 of the best citizens in this town meet at Five Points tomorrow night and go to the station house and hang Beavers and Lanford to telephone poles, the two corrupt grafters and thieves."

Col. Felder tonight said he had positively declined to pay any money for the evidence mentioned in the affidavits.

Threatens to Show Them Up.

"I stated to them that I would introduce a gentleman, namely, Mr. E. O. Miles, who might be interested in securing possession of this evidence. I am informed that Mr. Miles, after meeting the party, introduced Mayor Woodward and several other gentlemen, who are interested in probing the police department. I will later make a complete reply to these affidavits, and in addition to this I will undertake to show to the people of Atlanta a condition which exists in respect to the so-called detective department that will be appalling to them as it was to me."

At Request of Neighbors.

Felder said he interested himself in the Phagan case at the request of neighbors and friends of the Coleman parents of the murdered girl. "Mr. Coleman," he said, "personally approved the employment."

The grand jury adjourned until tomorrow for further consideration of the case against Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the pencil factory, where Mary Phagan worked, and Newt Lee, negro night watchman there, who had been held by the coroner's jury.

FELDER REPLIES TO CHARGES.

Brands as False Accusations of Alleged Attempts at Bribery.

Atlanta, Ga., May 24.—Replying tonight to charges of alleged attempts at bribery in connection with the Phagan murder case, Col. T. B. Felder, engaged to assist in the prosecution, branded as false such accusations and made sweeping counter charges against Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford and members of his department.

In his statement Col. Felder describes Chief Lanford as the Lieut. Becker of our "system" and accuses him of fomenting a plot to thwart the ends of justice.

Much of the statement is devoted to an attack on A. S. Colyar, Jr., of Tennessee, whose affidavit, published yesterday, alleged that Col. Felder offered a sum of money for certain documents said to be a part of the records of the detective department. Col. Felder described the Colyar affidavit, as well as that of G. O. February, secretary to Chief Lanford, as untrue. He also denied the genuineness of the report of an alleged conversation between these men and himself, said to have been obtained by means of a secret telephonic device which he has himself employed in other cases.

Col. Felder admitted that Colyar and February had a conversation with him but declared that he referred them to the mayor, believing that the head of the city government would be interested in any evidence of alleged "graft" by heads of the police department. He said that the whole thing is the result of a "plot" to thwart his efforts to apprehend the person who killed Mary Phagan.

Col. Felder' statement, which is extended, bristled with charges reflecting upon the character of Chief Lanford and the manner in which the detective department has conducted its search for the murderer of the Phagan girl.

Col. Felder, in concluding, described the manner in which he became connected with the Phagan case and declared that his contract with the friends of the murdered girl's family is open for inspection by persons not connected with the police or detective departments.

A. S. Colyar, Jr., was arrested tonight, it being alleged that he is wanted on a charge of forgery, said to have been committed in Knoxville, Tenn., several years ago. He was later released on bond.
